

Leadership Training: Public Sector Leadership Competencies (LEADP, 2 jours)

Description

Present and future leaders of the Public Service need to continually adapt to constant change – and successfully lead others through it! Aligned with the current Treasury Board Key Leadership Competencies profile, which serves as the basis for choice, learning and development, performance and talent management of executives and other senior leaders, The course Public Sector Leadership Competencies (Leadership Training) will guide participants through the core competencies, unpacking the terms and working through their own experiences to identify strengths and gaps, and create a plan to round out their knowledge, skills and abilities to put them on the executive track.
